

CFSR CASE REVIEWERS LEARNING COLLABORATIVE

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA
TRAINING
ACADEMY

Calling all Northern California federal case reviewers! We have scheduled a quarterly learning and sharing collaborative to provide an opportunity for case reviewers to network with colleagues and share information, tips, tools and tricks of the trade. While many of the topics will be generated by participants, the collaborative will generally explore:

- Collaborative solutions to common challenges
- CFSR's impact on the organization
- Strategies for messaging to staff, the agency and the community
- Continuous Quality Improvement as a system for incorporating case reviews

While this is not a typical training event, participants can expect to walk away with new information, resources and skills to apply toward developing creating solutions to case review challenges. The quarterly collaborative will be facilitated to allow significant amount of time for networking and collaborative learning

INSTRUCTOR

Joanne Brown, M.S.W., a retired Superior Court commissioner from Alameda County, has been consulting for the National Resource Center on Legal and Judicial Issues, ABA Center on Children and the Law since 2004.
