

The Central California Training Academy presents

FEDERAL CASE REVIEW TRAINING

A four-day intensive overview to support the
Case Review Certification Process in California

Intended Audience: Selected Case Review staff across California

What you'll learn: This workshop will review the new Federal Case Review tool, which is used to: 1) ensure child welfare conformity with federal requirements; 2) determine what is actually happening to children and families engaged in child welfare services; and 3) assist the state and county to enhance capacity to help children and families achieve positive outcomes. This intensive, four-day workshop will prepare staff with the materials needed to successfully conduct the California Child and Family Review (C-CFSR) process.

How you'll benefit:

- Understand the purpose and role of the case reviewer and case review tools
- Demonstrate the skills required to complete the case review tool accurately
- Synthesize information from a variety of sources (organizing data in such a way that they can use the information in the tool)
- Apply the organizational skills necessary for completion of the case review tool

Follow-Up Coaching Sessions: Trainees are required to participate in three of the following coaching call dates. Please click on link to register for that date:
