

Office of Child Abuse and Prevention

Child Abuse and Prevention Programs Funded by the State Children's Trust Fund 2014-15

GRANTEE NAME	Permissible Use	GRANT DESCRIPTION	TOTAL PAID AS OF SFY JUNE 2014	TOTAL PAID AS OF SFY JUNE 2015
Strategies: Youth for Change	Innovation Research/Demonstration Dissemination/Replication	Three separate nonprofit agencies collaborate to create a statewide prevention capacity building network. Funded to enhance the capacity of family resource centers and family strengthening organizations to more effectively prevent child abuse and neglect and support better outcomes for children and their families. Also responsible for demonstrating best practices to the field, and disseminating information about practice and programs. Those programs are: Youth for Change , Interface: Children and Family Services , and Children's Bureau of Southern California .	$133,299
Strategies: Interface			$131,299
Strategies: Children's Bureau			$133,300
California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse – Rady Children's Hospital San Diego	Innovation Research/Demonstration Dissemination/Replication	California Evidence-Based Clearinghouse . Review of national literature on child abuse and neglect innovative and best practices; categorization system ranking results of review as best practices; dissemination of results via website and outreach.	$83,652	$163,998.49
Department of General Services		Printed materials to advertise Special Kids Plate	$43,436	$43,368.00
Mandated Reporter Training – Rady Children's Hospital San Diego	Public Awareness Dissemination/Replication	On-Line Mandated Reporter Training is available free of charge through the web to any interested person. Training is advertised by grantee to increase utilization of training, and awareness of children at risk of abuse and neglect. In person train the trainer trainings and educational materials to increase the number of children identified who are at risk of child abuse and neglect are provided.	$167,392	$174,675.95
College of the Siskiyou's	Research/Demonstration	Family Development Matrix (FDM) is a comprehensive, strengths-based family engagement and assessment tool that is currently being used by county-based service networks and tribal communities. The goal of FDM is to institute an effective tool to determine the needs of children and families and to track services that families receive as well as their outcomes.	$175,283	$144,118.02
TOTAL			$867,661	$526,160.46